DEFENDING CHILDHOOD: KEEPING THE PROMISE OF EARLY EDUCATION (EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION SERIES) FROM TEACHERS COLLEGE PRESS PDF

"These pages make clear that the way to foster effective teaching is not with curriculum mandates and pacing guides but with professional learning opportunities that prepare expert educators to take advantage of and create teachable moments."

--From the Foreword by Linda Darling-Hammond, Stanford University

This book brings together a group of extraordinary educators and scholars who offer important insights about what we can do to defend childhood from societal challenges. The authors explain new findings from neuroscience and psychology, as well as emerging knowledge about the impact on child development of cultural and linguistic diversity, poverty, families and communities, and the media. Each chapter presents experiences and suggestions, from the perspectives of different disciplines, about what can be done to ensure that all children gain access to the supports they need for optimal physical, social, intellectual, and emotional development.

Defending My Teaching

By Badal

As an early childhood educator, I sometimes feel like I am lost in nowadays test driven, textbook and worksheet based curriculums in NYC public schools. It's books like this that make me continue to believe in the importance and effectiveness of child centered teaching and give me the confidence to defend my practices, my students in my classrooms.
